

Talbott Simonds

Talbott Simonds is a Managing Director for Investments at Tondern Capital, an affiliate of The Hillman Company, a private, family investment office located in Pittsburgh, PA, and a member of the Hillman Company board. His investments focus primarily on venture capital and buy outs in a wide range of technologies and industries.

Prior to Tondern, he was a Vice President at Trident Capital in Palo Alto, CA and previously worked in Investment Banking at Robertson Stephens. He is currently on the board of Waterside School in Stamford, CT and the Squash Education Alliance and is the founder and former board member of Steel City Squash in Pittsburgh. He has previously served on the boards of REDF and S.M.A.R.T. in the Bay Area, Good Shepherd Services in New York and St. Edmund's Academy in Pittsburgh. He received an AB from Princeton University and an MBA from Harvard Business School.

Talbott lives in Greenwich, CT with his wife, Carter, and four kids. They also have a home in Jackson, WY. He is an avid outdoorsman enjoying all types of skiing, biking, kayaking, hiking, fishing, bird hunting, golf, and racket sports. Talbott is a pilot flying small propeller planes and jet aircraft.