

Andrés Vélez

Andrés Vélez (TPR '14) is Chief Operating Officer (COO) at DbCom, which offers financial institutions EQube, a leading regulatory compliance platform. There, he focuses on strategy, growth, and optimizing operations for scale. He has built a career across technology and finance, at both established firms, including Microsoft and Citigroup, and fast-growing companies, including Octane.

As a proud alumnus, Andrés stays closely involved with Carnegie Mellon University (CMU), serving as a member of the Board of Trustees, President of its Alumni Association Board (AAB), a founding member of its Hispanic and Latino Alumni Association (HLAA), an active member of the New York Metro Chapter, and a global advocate for alumni, students, and the university.

He holds a Master of Business Administration (MBA) from IESE Business School and a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration from CMU's Tepper School of Business.

Andrés is committed to strengthening connections among CMU alumni, students, and the university as well as expanding the reach and impact of the global Tartan community. His two sisters are also CMU graduates who share this dedication.
